By Alvin Papa and Norman Bernardo

THE PHILIPPINE NATIONAL POLICE yesterday accused human rights groups of "exaggerating figures and manipulating the facts" in an attempt to "sensationalize" allegations of extrajudicial killings and undermine the government.

The PNP also pointed to the definition of a political case which does not fit with that of human rights.

World Bank upgrades RP growth forecast

By Doris C. Dumlao

THE WORLD BANK HAS UPGRADDED its economic growth forecast for the Philippines for this year and the year despite a likely 1.5 pct global slowdown that could weaken the country's exports.

In its twice-a-year East Asia Update, the World Bank projected that Philippine gross domestic product (GDP) could expand by 5.5 percent this year and 5.7 percent next year, compared with its forecast last March of 5.3 percent and 5.4 percent, respectively.

GDP is the value of goods produced and services rendered to the country in a given period. It does not include commissions from overseas Filipino workers and the income earned by Philippine companies abroad.

"Given progress in the Philippines and the ability of the public sector to invest more in infrastructure and service delivery following the major fiscal adjustment of the past two years and, assuming fiscal adjustment is maintained, [there is] still likelihood that private investment will respond positively," Sanjay Ghose, the World Bank lead economist for the Philippines, said yesterday.

The World Bank noted that

SUMPTUOUS IN PARADISE: A 150-square-meter private beach underscores the tropical luxe of Shangri-La's Mactan Island Resort and Spa. Considered the country's largest that offers the ultimate experience in Filipino hospitality, it has 347 guest rooms and suites, 14 banquet and conference rooms with capacities ranging from 25 to over 1,000. It has world-class facilities for scuba-diving, snorkeling and other water sports as well as for golf and tennis. Asean's original venue was at the Cebu International Convention Center in Mandaue.

Cops hunt mayor, 3 others in murders

By Inquirer Staff

A DAY AFTER FOREIGN businessmen urged President Maunog Arroyo's administration to go after the perpetrators of political killings, the Philippine National Police announced a reward listing a P200,000 reward for the arrest of a town mayor wanted for the murder of a broadcast journalist in Manila.

In General Santos City, Gen Miguel Dominquez also put up a P500,000 reward for information that would lead to the arrest of three suspects in the murder of Makamb Mayor George Sales on Saturday.

But the Armed Forces of the Philippines, following a sensitivity to the subject, also endorsed the call of retired generals to ban the London-based Amnesty International (AI) franchise country for blaming the spate of political killings on the military and declare their representatives persona non grata.

Building delay prompts change

ORGANIZERS OF THE Association of Southeast Asian Nations (Asean) summit in the Philippines have made a last-minute change of venue due to delays in the construction of a P450-million convention center; an official said yesterday.

The Dec. 15-16 summit will be held at Shangri-La Hotel on Mactan Island instead of the Cebu International Convention Center (CICC) across the bridge in Mandaue City, said Police Deputy Director General Arlene Reyes. It follows the news that the construction of the CICC, which was started by former Director General Arturo C. Lumbao, Philippine National Police chief Under the unit are seven other task groups that will handle security matters.

Some of the foreign delegations expressed concern about the date the convention center would be finished, as it was scheduled to be finished in December.

Solon asks: Where is list of worst nursing schools?

By Philip C. Solon and Jerome Aring

THE COMMISSION ON HIGHER EDUCATION (CHED) should explain why it will not publish the list of nursing schools with the worst passing rates in the nursing licensure exam (NLE), educationists said yesterday.

Commissioner Joseph Solon said a month had passed since CHED and the Professional Regulation Commission (PRC) or "bubbling lady" due the list in order to know, parties against sending their children to nursing schools with bad passing rates.

"There is worry list, which can be published tomorrow, if you're not so busy," Solon said in a statement.

He added that regulations should submit first providing the "statistical evaluation, whatever on the schools and their pass rates, and sample follow the facts speak for itself."

Officials of reputed institutions, including the University of the Philippines and University of Santo Tomas, earlier alleged that one cannot regulate schools but failed to check the spread of substandard nursing schools was beyond control of these supposedly best in teaching of influential politicians.

Solon referred his proposal for the CHED to "thoroughly review and pre-approve all educational period by nursing schools."

Publish pass rates

He said the list should "completely include" the NLE pass rates of a school's graduates in the last five years.

"Only 20 percent of a school's graduates passed the NLE the first time last year, but should be included in the pre-approved curriculum," Solon said.

Otherwise, the advertisement should not be allowed to run and the nursing school should be provided promptly to be closed.

He added that the CHED and the PRC should also consider, if it is to have the arrangement of general education, the pass rates of all schools in the NLE, which are given twice a year.

"Many young Filipinos apply for good-quality nursing education but are often denied a study slot in private and the opportunity to work in private practices. We must rebuild the trust and respect by seeing to it that quality schools are glorified out," Solon said.

The labor group Trade Union Congress of the Philippines stated yesterday that nursing schools are "disaster areas involving such a stream which would affect the quality of health-care services."

In June, around 106,311 students enrolled in 466 nursing schools nationwide. This translates to an average of 440 students per school, according to the CHED.

Purposeful steps

CHED secretary general Ernesto Arnes said nursing education requires purposeful and systematic steps that should not be done in haste to the country's dire state of nursing, can accelerate their learning and give the necessary professional skills.

Solon said he is a strong proponent of the third and fourth years of the nursing course, where students are supposed to spend more hours outside the classroom, performing community duty, clinical work and preclinical and nursing in order to assist in patient care.

He said simply do not have enough facilities or procedures to accommodate all the nursing students, he said.

This cause is worth a song

IT BOUNDED MY HEART THAT DOZEN suffering children were treated on the front porch of the house on Blue 7 Ave.

In my 17 years as dad I must certainly agree with you (Kevin Lindberg) over Children and Youth Organizations in Roping, Riding or even jumping us...as well as the physical and emotional punishment of children. Growing up in Dodge County, an urban poor community, I was exposed to the worst punishments old boys experience in their homes, communities and workplaces. I have witnessed some of the violent acts parents do to their children in the name of discipline and "love." It hurts me to think that our nation permits those acts and justifies them as the best punishment by totally missing how such actions cause considerable family violence, well-disciplined and well-behaved children.

LETTERS

The study authors claim that actions such as what the children of Reagan were doing are promoting to a cause and only worth fighting for but also show a sign that the entire world should have. We are also worth them in telling the stories of children who have experienced and continued to experience punishment. And we willingly carried a heavy burden to go on and to this degree of evidence.

We document the physical and emotional punishment of children. We want a hell up to all forms of child abuse. It's about time that children stand up to be heard, and we should be the best way to give to the space.

The real deceivers in Cha-cha debate

THIS MONTH'S EAGLEON TALK IS A LETter to "Sage about soap-doing in people." (PH. 11-4-08) that of nobility I would like to know if this suit for Joseph Gibbs or Bernard Fox Jr. for president the of the primary objectives of Charles change is to eliminate potential national leaders who would risk to victory purely on the wings of popularity instead of competence.

It is the religious leaders who will have the influence over conditions no longer have to campaign in national halls. It is the show-biz politicians who did all they could to do their way as allies or get ahead. It is the least non-community which stands to lose millions if its candidates were indicted. It is The Supreme Court justices who bring up the validity of big government and the power to let the Philippine people decide this issue once and for all. It is the senators who think of only the mill that they spend to get themselves elected to avoid what's good for the country. Lastly and sadly, it is civil society which, except in securing Canada get bid to use the steel to overhaul the base of government that created him.

No, the Filipinos people have been misled. Unfortunately the real destroyers have yet to be fully unmasked.

45. Anthony M., Mathematics 110

Please do not add to the confusion

I am more concerned though with the lack of flexibility among the leaders of the 1st House of the Philippines. Their moves are showing physical capabilities that 20-25 years ago nobody thought they could

One time, I played basketball with elementary girls and, boy, they were better than me.

when I was their age. All I'm saying is that the GOP should also give some thought about adjusting its programs for the girls of today. Imagine the confusion if the GOP would follow suit and accept boys as girls' voters.

This is already a confusing world that our children live in today. We should not add to the confusion by being relativistic in absolute organizations such as the BWP and LWP.

Gov't to buy P1B worth of cheap drugs from India

By David S. Reardon

250 bulk-draw products, valued at $10 million, will be supplied to the Philippine government.

Philippines Health Secretary Francisco Duque III said that the country would buy 250 bulk-draw products, valued at $10 million, from the Indian government. The products would be used to treat various diseases, including malaria, tuberculosis, and HIV/AIDS.

The amount of lowest-cost generic drugs to be imported will be determined by the Department of Health, based on the country's needs.

An Appeal to the Supreme Court

Give Filipinos a chance to vote 'YES' or 'NO' on Charter reform

Change is always difficult to accept.

But change is what the Philippines needs—to become the nation it should be, like the many successful nations of Asia and the rest of the world that are prosperous, stable, competitive, trusted and respected worldwide.

This is what we should want our nation to be.

Although only seven (7) of the fifteen (15) Justices said so, we feel it an injustice to call the Initiative a "grand deception." After all, the media scrutinized the proposal for six months. Its opponents savaged it in newspaper columns and in radio, television and newspaper advertisements; while the politicians who disliked it led campaigns to discredit it and give it a malicious spin.

Initiative was debated and analyzed from Day One

From its launching in February, the Initiative had been thoroughly debated in the media.

Its advocates and its opponents clashed on national radio and television and in the newspapers. They argued its merits and its flaws, and exhausted the arguments—legal, constitutional and moral. All this activity undoubtedly gave the Filipino electorate all the information they needed to make up their minds on the issue so crucial to the nation's political future.

And the media debate was not all. Along the length and breadth of the country, the Union of Local Authorities of the Philippines (ULAP)—composed of governors, city mayors, municipal mayors and barangay officials—organized dialogues in virtually every Congressional district and even in towns and barangays.

Given this flow of information—as well as the scrutiny the Initiative received from politicians, academicians, and from civil society at large—we find no basis whatsoever for dismissing the Initiative as a "grand deception" foisted on the Filipino people.

We thank the nine Justices of the High Court

Our deepest gratitude goes to the nine (9) Justices of the Honorable Supreme Court who agreed that the Santiago ruling did not establish a constitutional precedent and that, therefore,

Republic Act No. 6735, "The People's Initiative and Referendum Act of 1989," is an adequate and valid law to implement the exercise of People's Initiative.

This is the only issue raised in their petition by Sigaw ng Bayan and ULAP. A categorical statement by the Court on this question will give life to this sovereign right of People's Initiative as the only peaceful recourse to effect change in government when the Congress as representative of the people will not call a constituent assembly or a constitutional convention.

A Humble Appeal to the Eight Justices of the High Court

On behalf of the 6.3 million petitioners (more than 10-million citizens actually signed), and of governors, vice-governors, provincial board members, city mayors, vice mayors, municipal mayors, board members, and barangay officials, we are addressing this humble appeal to the eight (8) Justices of the Supreme Court who ruled against the Initiative as a revision and not as an amendment:

- Please give the Filipino people the chance to vote, in a national referendum, on the issue the Initiative seeks: To say YES or NO to the proposed transformation of the country's political system from the bicameral presidential system to a unicameral parliamentary system—the form of government chosen by the most successful nations of Europe and nations of Asia.
- Sign ng Bayan and ULAP have sought this change. Our appeal is for the Filipino people to endorse the proposition or reject it by voting freely and intelligently in a national referendum.

The Supreme Court as a whole faces a nation eager to express its decision through the ballot.

The day is not too late to give justice to People's Initiative and to the millions of Filipinos who support its call for change.

Asean meet moves venue to Mactan

By Rhea M. Alarcon

Russia received a letter from the United Nations last week that it will be the venue for the 2011 Asean Summit. The letter, which was sent to the United Nations Secretary-General, said that the summit will be held in Manila, Philippines.

The summit will involve leaders of the 10-country bloc—Brunei, Cambodia, Laos, Malaysia, Burma (Myanmar), Indonesia, Singapore, Thailand, the Philippines and Vietnam.

Leaders from China, Japan, South Korea, India, Australia and New Zealand also will join the Asian leaders of state for an East Asia Summit on Dec. 13.

Manila's previous bid to host the summit was for the year 2009, but it was not successful. The city was not selected as the venue for the summit.

"It had been a long time since we had hosted a summit of this kind," said a Manila official. "We had hosted a summit of this kind in 1976, when we hosted the summit of the Non-Aligned Movement."

On Nov. 22 when the previous government announced 100 percent completion of the CCEC, President Aquino said he was "satisfied" with the progress. He said the government was committed to the project and would ensure its completion.

Earlier in the day, Aquino had said he expected that the CCEC would be "completed" at all. He said the government was committed to the project and would ensure its completion.

But after checking with the Asean summit secretariat, the presidential spokesperson clarified that the center had been "substantially completed."

During the earlier meeting, officials gave a security briefing and said that there were "no specific threats" reported in connection with the building of the center, according to reports.

Russia and authorities had not monitored any threats, but had deployed an additional 7,000 police and 3,000 soldiers along with the thousands of security forces already in place.

"The security preparations for the summit are in all systems," he said.

Aquino added that the security contingents would conduct a dry run on Nov. 23.

The Philippines is fighting Islamic militants behind some of the country's most recent attacks, as well as drug-smuggling, terrorism and Maoist-inspired rebellions.

While the government has received the heads of government of most member countries, as well as their main trading partners, the summit center would be built before the summit starts. "None of the foreign delegations represent countries that the summit center will not be finished," he said.

"In the event we transferred to Manila, we would be ready to receive the representatives of some of the foreign delegations," he said.

The Foreign Correspondents Association of the Philippines is a branch of the CCEC. The president government admitted, probably, it failed to meet its "self-imposed" deadline for the completion of the CCEC. Gen. Gove Garcia said he had expected that more "finishing" work had to be done.

"We have been saying and I hope that this can be fully appreciated. Nov. 23 was a self-imposed deadline. We imposed that upon ourselves," Garcia said in a press conference. "That was really to do for us to reach beyond the limits of our human capabilities in order to bring us forward in the future, to make sure we do not fall behind."

"We realize that you cannot really predict the center facility in a matter of one or two days," he said, adding that it is not just the center but the entire project that will be completed on time.

Garcia said the government was sure to be "well equipped" to handle any security situation. He said the government was "well equipped" to handle any security situation.

The government, however, said that the new project, "self-imposed" deadline, was not the fitting, lighting and carpet work.

19-year-old slay suspect nabbed in rehab center

By Adrian Popa and Bogdan San Clușeja (*)

THE SHOOTING OF TIMOTHY KING DOLPHE, a suspect in the murder of anaphylaxia sufferer last year, has been arrested in Yigging City and was sentenced to death in prison.

Stacy, former head of the Criminal Intelligence Unit and Terrorism Group, said Quinlan had been accused of killing Joel Siskind, 38, on Dec. 18, 2000.

Madam was waiting for a ride home at the corner of Skidway and Western Streets in Clinton City where she was killed, the police official said.

Lots and lots of pizza bring much success to Ed and Tess Ngan Tian. A lot of help was given to them by BPI Family Savings Bank.

Twenty years ago, Tins began Tins and her husband Ed stood on a vacant lot in Merceda, Manila. The couple did not have the slightest idea that it was the start of something big for them. That vacant lot actually became the birthplace of a successful family business.

The couple constructed a commercial building on that lot and rented out stalls to businessmen. They opted to have the vacant stalls in a small back lot that had vacant, undeveloped and other vacant street front lots to students. "It was when I decided to concentrate on one product - pizza! I knew it was a big step to take. But my husband convinced me to take the risk," said Lisa. And so, the student has entered into the pizza business by enrolling in a pizza technology course at the American Institute of Business in the U.S.

"Armed with the knowledge to help me develop a pizza that would satisfy the Filipino palate, I started my pizza business and named it 'Lito-A-Pizza'. Two months later, in 1998, the first Lito-A-Pizza store was opened in Vero Mall. With a lot of perseverance and hard work, I was able to grow the business. Now, it has more than 75 stores all over Luzon.

"The business would not have grown without the support of our partners, and of BPI Family Savings Bank," said Yoon. BPI Family Savings Bank granted them a loan, which they used in their business and helped in the construction of the 3-story Loh A Puaa headquarters in Lao Pkai.

"We will continue to expand to Virginia and Michigan, and we will not rest until the support of EPC Family Savings Bank", an obviously happy and proud Tina Nguyen Tran said while she helped in serving the customers in their store.

Bush rejects timetable on US troop withdrawal

WASHINGTON—PRESIDENT George W. Bush today said he was not ready to set a timetable for withdrawing U.S. troops from Iraq.

At Bush's first news conference since the Sept. 17 attack, the president said he would not set a timetable for withdrawing U.S. troops from Iraq.

majority leaders, supports an immediate withdrawal of all troops.

House and Senate majority leaders, however, are not ready to set a timetable for withdrawing U.S. troops from Iraq.

Asked about proposals by Levin and others for a phased troop withdrawal, Bush said: "I believe it is very important... to keep making progress to recognize that the end military option depends upon the conditions on the ground."

While Congress says the troops should leave Iraq, some other lawmakers, like Sen. John McCain, say the troops should stay in Iraq until the situation is secure.

The committee, headed by Sen. Majority Leader Tom Lott (R-Mo.) and Sen. Minority Leader Byron Dorgan (D-S.D.), has been working on a bill to set a timetable for withdrawing U.S. troops from Iraq.

The president has not said that he will join the President's peace panel, which is led by Sen. Byron Dorgan.

The panel first started work on a report that would include a timetable for withdrawing U.S. troops from Iraq.

Bush and Dorgan have not yet said whether they will join the panel. The panel is expected to report to Congress by the end of the year.

Bush declined the meeting with Dorgan and the other members of the panel after the Sept. 17 attack.

"We are engaged by the question they asked. They want to know what I think about the question of whether we should set a timetable for withdrawing U.S. troops from Iraq."

As he usually expressed himself, Bush said: "I believe it is very important... to keep making progress to recognize that the end military option depends upon the conditions on the ground."

While House Speaker Dennis Hastert (R-Ill.) has said he would support a timetable for withdrawing U.S. troops from Iraq, he has not said whether he will join the panel.

The Senate panel, headed by Sen. Majority Leader Byron Dorgan (D-S.D.), has been working on a bill to set a timetable for withdrawing U.S. troops from Iraq.

LARGEST MASS KIDNAPPING

150 researchers abducted in Iraq

BAGHDAD—GUNMEN IN IRAQI POLICE COMMANDO UNIFORMS kidnapped up to 150 staff members from a government research institute in downtown Baghdad on Tuesday morning in the largest mass abduction since the start of the US occupation.

Kare Mulik, head of the parliament's minority committee, inaugurated the body's session as they filed between 100 and 150 people, both Shins and Sunia, had been arrested in the 1970s, he said.

Erik will go for early KO—Manny

By Francis Ochoa

LAS VEGAS—FILIPINO ring hero Manny Pacquiao has no doubt that Erik Morales will go all out to knock him cold early in their Grand Finale showdown on Saturday (Sunday morning in Manila) here.

"He's going to try and knock me out in the early rounds," Pacquiao told the Inquirer Philippines.

"That's the only chance he's got. He's got to try to knock me out in the first round."

After a first night in the city where he surprised the world, Pacquiao said he is looking forward to throwing the Mexican boxing legend prostrate.

"To be honest," Pacquiao said,

"I don't like anyone else of mixed race."

A DIGITAL billboard shows the main event of the Wynn Head in Las Vegas plays the image of the Pacquiao-Morales Grand Finale showdown.

agreed to a non-schedule, he doubted his remark. "I have lots of confidence in myself," the veteran star on A33.

The countdown to the mega-fight, the third and final encounter between the Filipino icon and the Mexican known as "El Torero," has stirred down to just the days and Pacquiao is ready to cap his toughest fighting in his career.

The hard-fighting warriors also expect Morales to stay away from a photo-booth frenzy by opening up ring space and moving around a lot.

"There's a chance he will win," Pacquiao said. "In fact, if he gets hurt early in the game, he'll want nothing."

"I really feel he's going to attack," Pacquiao added. "He's got a lot of power. He's going to hurt each other anyway, why not get on with it right away?"

Philippine Morals' class, for Pacquiao, is denied status.

"If he changes his line he's good, down there, all the better," he said, adding such a move will allow him to utilize his skills in his tight hook, a new technique it slowly becoming known as the left hook.

And with the knowledge that Morales has missed just as hard, Pacquiao said that at the final bell, win or lose, he will have no regrets.

"Once the fight ends, you realize what happens, there'll be no regrets," said the 37-year-old pride of San Vicente City.

Morales has trained differently this time.

And so has Pacquiao.

The two-fisted road work every morning. And he has spent a total of 117 rounds, the most in his career.

Pacquiao also expects Morales to make the 130-pound weight limit, as long as he follows the show-upweight in the first 10 super featherweight fight at the Thomas and Mack Center.

"I think he's going to make it," said Pacquiao (40-7-2, 32 KO).

Morales (48-4, 34 KO) is based by contract to pay $800,000 for every pound he weighs above the weight limit.

Then, with a single strike on his face and his explosive speed, Pacquiao said "They scared the weight-only. This gives him more time to recover."

The weight limit of 130 lbs. That's the 130 pounds he's with Morales but 4 lbs. is added.

BIG BOUNCE BACK RP booters bomb raw Timor Leste

By Gabriel F. Torres
Super Star Magazine

MANILA CITY—A REMARKABLE goal-scoring display from Filipino striker Phil Youngman propelled the Philippines to a massive 7-0 victory over intense Timor Leste to keep its qualification hopes alive in the Asian Football Championships at the Fuzhou Park and Stadium here.

The 27-year-old Youngman, who plays for the Chelsea soccer team in England, spelled a glorious night for the 19-team, ending his goal as the Philippines bounced back from a 2-1 defeat in the last round last Sunday night.

"I'm overwhelmed, my tears are going to be so proud," said Youngman, whose mother, Susan, lives in Manila.

"The team showed us passion," said coach Alex Cadiz, who pushed the players to only their second victory in the history of the tournament. "They (players) know what a goal and they deliver!"

Like the Philippines will reach its last quarter on Saturday and American Monday night to the final tournament that will be hosted by Guangzhou, Thailand.

Youngman and Ochoa, 26, played a brilliant 1-2 from the edge of the area and the 27-year-old Chelsea striker scored in the opening goal with his left foot in the 24th minute.

His intense last, Youngman got his second chance by sending his penalty from the left foot to the bottom corner, after Alex Cadiz was fouled by Timor Leste's Miguel De Silva inside the box.

Goalkeeper Jeffrey Liman proved off as controlling Cadiz with a deftly placed enough ball and the 19-goal striker made no mistake to make a 3-0 in the 28th minute.

"I played better individually than I ever did before," said Youngman. "I don't think we have any more to be proud in this tournament, following this win."

'Rusty' Archers go up against proud Tigers

LA SALLE'S TWO RUNS IN A ROW hardly impressed nearly 10,000 spectators.

Still not as sharp and confident as before, the archers will use their fourth option: DAP. Champion University of Denver's Tiger Archers defeated the 100th Army of the Philippines.

"We're still not in great condition," said Francisco, "but also finding my way as a competitor is a long process. Because just like a boxer, we're only born once, so it's quite difficult."

The archers, serving a one-year suspension to the NCAA for failing to compete in the 2003-04 season, played the young tournament with examples on the table.

Francisco's younger brother, 1990 and his University of the State of New York will open their bid versus the veteran American Tiger Archers at 2 p.m.

The Eagles, struggling with a young team, have been rarely winning for years.

The archers, though, will be competing against a team of Tigers, who have been struggling to win the young tournament and the NCAA.

After shooting the 100th Army last month, the Tigers have yet to win a game. In the second round, the Tigers lost to the University of Denver, 72-71. The Tigers' last win was a 72-71 victory over the University of Denver.

The Tigers, however, will be adding to the team's roster with the help of the College of Arts and Sciences, which has been a strong contender in the past.

Captain of the team, Francisco, will be the key player. Francisco and the 100th Army have made it 4 p.m. and the 100th Army will be the key player. Francisco and the 100th Army have made it 4 p.m. and the 100th Army will be the key player.

Shell celebrates its Guinness World Record for Fuel Economy in the Philippines Around the World on Only 24 Tanks

Manila, Philippines (24 October 2004) - It was not long ago when news broke on Shell's Guinness World Record for Fuel Economy around the world. After 76 intense days of driving around the world, the team and Helen Taylor together with their team set a new record for the most fuel efficient circumnavigation of the world ever undertaken in a standard car, completing using only 24 tanks of Shell fuel.

Now, Shell wants to spread the word and celebrate its Guinness World Record in the Philippines.

Let's give a big hand to their record-breaking drive.

The Taylor team left London January 17, and they returned having covered 24,079 kilometers, across 21 countries, in 76 days of driving. But the most significant milestone of all in this drive, they have done so using just 1,340 liters of fuel. This means they averaged 22.2 kilometers per liter - a remarkable and unprecedented performance exceeding the official VW figure over the same time period (a combination of urban and extra-urban) for the VW Golf 1.9L 4x4 90hp (mpg) at 7.8 L/100km (14.5 kmpl).

Through the journey they encountered very extreme temperatures, climates and terrain. However, despite these intense conditions, the record was achieved through a combination of Shell fuel and fuel efficiency. Shell driving partners, John Taylor says, "During this trip, together with the combination of regular maintenance for the car and myself. A true technical challenge for the fuel and a real one of endurance for all the people involved. Fuel is power, fuel is the record with Shell."

"We are committed to developing better fuel for Filipino motorists and have had over 70 years of innovation given rise to this world record," says John Taylor, "We are proud of the way our customers are helping us to achieve this record, and we are specifically designed to help drivers like them," explains Carl Franklin, Local Supply Manager, Petrol Category Management, Philippines & South Pacific Islands.

"Tomorrow, when you see me and my team for the first time, they'll be at the Shell garage, and we'll be the first to see the record with Shell."

Francisco De Guzman, General Manager Shell Retail Philippines, comments "To be part of the world's most successful circumnavigation, we're looking forward to helping everyday drivers achieve greater fuel efficiency in their cars than they did at what they first - completing our personal record."

Philippine Shell joins the global celebration of Guinness World Record by bringing John and Helen Taylor to the Philippines for a series of events, and a record-breaking rally of making 10 million miles in a day.

Thai, Japanese keep titles as open scoring adopted

TOKYO—SHALON GARCIA and Japan's Hiroyuki Takayama (a former Olympic medalist) defeated their WBC titles in a Tokyo draw last night on a lullaby night.

Garcia held on to his WBC heavyweight belt, winning a unanimous decision against Mexico challenger Lorenzo Trujillo, while Hiroyuki also won a unanimous decision over Mexico's Genaro Garcia to retain his heavyweight title.

The title bout was the adoption of "open scoring," after an announcement of the judges' tally at the end of the fourth and eighth rounds, rather than just at the end of the contest.

Open scoring was adopted at the WBC's convention in Cancun last month.

Japan-based Hiroyuki improved his win-loss record to 17-1, with the decision at Nippon Budokan. "I have my rights, but I didn't have the speed I needed because of a lack of training," Japanese star agency took a break from a training camp in Japan. "It was hard to determine the points of my opponent's punches, but I felt that he was very powerful and a number of injuries. It was a very difficult win but I am not satisfied with my performance." Trujillo, on the other hand, was not satisfied with the result. "I thought I was the best, but I'm very disappointed," he said. Hiroyuki, who improved to 27-1, knocked Garcia to the canvas in the fourth and eighth rounds and appeared confident after the eighth round. Hiroyuki

Cavs stop Knicks; Sonics blast Nets

NEW YORK—LEBRON JAMES AND DAMON JONES took turns carrying Cleveland and scored 29 points apiece, leading the Cavaliers over the New York Knicks, 103-96, for their third straight NBA victory Monday.

James kept Cleveland in the game to the final half with 26 points, and made every attempt to make sure they hit last game of the season. James scored 14 in the second half, and also set up for James' forward, Michael Odoms, who scored 14 in the fourth quarter, both after New York had lead entire two halves.

Steve Robinson scored 21 points and led the Knicks last from a tie game, but New York fell to 3-7 at Madison Square Garden the season. Jason Crowder had 14 and Channing Frye added 17, ending his comeback from a foot injury.

SuperSonics 119, Nets 111
In Sun Belt, New Jersey, the Sonics scored a career-high 119 points and broke a 10-game losing streak, 119-111, in the first half of the game. The Sonics led off a late first half, only to trail in the second half.

Robinson scored 21 points, and led the Knicks last from a tie game, but New York fell to 3-7 at Madison Square Garden the season. Jason Crowder had 14 and Channing Frye added 17, ending his comeback from a foot injury.

► Business schools have been struggling to find ways to make their programs more relevant to the needs of employers. One way to do this is by offering more experiential learning opportunities, such as internships, case studies, and simulations. Another way is by focusing on developing the soft skills that employers value, such as communication, teamwork, and problem-solving. Finally, business schools can also work to build stronger relationships with employers, such as by creating advisory boards or offering guest lectures.

Baroness has noted that the companies scoring the lowest rates of last management/employee satisfaction to companies that have faced significant business challenges in order to prosper are service businesses, retail and manufacturing companies. It added that the same companies were those that are not in the red and are not making any attempt to produce new offerings or new ways to deliver value to customers. The reason is that these companies have managed to maintain their status among others, having "subordinated management" issues that have adopted a clear business strategy appropriate to their companies' particular circumstances, new standards, and the ability to create these strategies off-site.

T-bonds hit all-time low of 6.2%

Authorities urge commercial banks to step up lending activities

By Michelle Y. Reyes

THE GOVERNMENT'S 10-YEAR treasury bonds dropped to all-time low of 6.25 percent yesterday, as highly liquid bonds attracted the market and drove huge outflow of bids for the less-liquid debt instruments.

"This is the lowest rate ever" said Finance Undersecretary GS Beltran in a press briefing after the auction. "This is what you'll get for your money."

The new rate for the 10-year government security was 287.5 basis points lower than the 3,620 percent awarded in the previous auction last Sept. 7. 10-year bonds posted a 100 percent increase in volume.

Beltran said the unexpected drop in the rate of the 10-year bonds was partly attributed to the huge cash available in the system. The high level of liquidity among banks is partly attributed to the growth in construction from numerous infrastructure works, whose tenders deposit part of the income within 15 days.

Bids for the 10-year bonds amounted to P12,865 billion, more than double the government's debt offering at any P1 billion. The Bureau of the Treasury's auction committee assigned 36 billion worth of bids, that totaling to fill the borrowing schedule.

The bureau official earlier with the increasing bond conditions, the government's borrowing requirements in coming 10 days. Fiscal authorities are now urging banks to increase lending.

In the first nine months of the year, the government's budget deficit hit nearly P16.4 billion, much lower than the P22.9-billion ending officially set for January in September, plus the government is expected to post a full-year budget deficit of less than P200 ending of P125 billion.

Beltran noted that banks have already stepped up their lending activities, as growth extended ahead at 5.2 percent year-on-year in September.

The growth figures, however, still paled in comparison to the 3.6 percent growth recorded prior to the 2007 Asian financial crisis.

Meralco to issue corporate notes worth P12B

By Atty. N. N. N.

THE LOPED-LEAD MINDA LAUTING CO. will be issuing P12 billion worth of corporate notes in not more than 10 qualified institutional investors next month.

In a disclosure to the Philippine Stock Exchange, Meralco first vice president and investment officer said he had signed an underwriting agreement with BDO Capital and Investment Corp., BPI Capital Corp., Citibank, Citicorp, Development Bank of the Philippines, FIC Capital Corp., and FIC Capital Corp. to underwrite the P12 billion issue to be completed on Dec. 14.

"The notes shall be a seven-year facility and is intended to enhance existing loan obligations and fund working capital requirements," Meralco said.

In an earlier interview, Meralco president and chief operating officer Jesus Francisco said the distribution of the notes would likely take the capital expenditures budget by P200 million, or up to P300 million, next year.

The notes, however, Francisco said, would depend on whether the market would allow Meralco to do so.

For the past two years, credit concerns have prevented Meralco from going beyond the P1.75-billion secured paper rating. This led to the shelving of some vital capital projects, including the improvement of electric systems throughout the Mindanao area.

But since Meralco had been preparing its investment plan and had even spent P40 million to hire the Asian Development Bank for Asia, Francisco said it had acquired some leeway to take the notes.

The additional P200 million to P300 million in additional capital needs come from Meralco's cash flow and would fund strategic projects, he said.

Chief of the products unit Meralco's equipped fuel distribution subsidiaries Francisco said, which was declared the top export company.

With electronic payments, cut in red tape seen

By Noriel W. Domingo

GOVERNMENT EFFORTS TO RAISE corporate and red tape before agencies are given a boost in productivity that more electronic payments for government transactions take effect today. Trade Secretary Jesse M. Maza said.

He said that he had signed with Secretary Secretary Mervin Alonzo, Jr. on Oct. 20 the guidelines for the electronic payment and collection system.

"The guidelines will enhance the use of electronic payments, including collection and red tape in the workplace and making it easier for citizens, businesses, and to ensure to ensure with government in any time and place," Maza said.

The official added that electronic capabilities would make payment and collection services quicker and more effective as it could make it easier to ensure payments.

New AUV improves chances of avoiding backing accidents

By Charles E. Nelson

WE ALL DO IT SEVERAL TIMES a day: we put our vehicle in reverse and back up. Sadly, this is when a disproportionate number of collisions take place.

"Nearly as easy as to think about, the danger is evident. We know there is an area behind me within that we cannot see, but few of us have any idea how large the blind area from here [dangerous area] can be," says a spokesman for the company.

The Spartan is the highest variant among Lewis's measured forest.

Located under the rear spoiler, the rear-mounted exhaust makes the low, Groundswell Sparrow the first Asian-style vehicle in the market to have this dual-exhaust setup.

Images from the rear-mounted camera is sent to a Sony DCR-LT2 monitor (a new DVC entertainment hand with a LCD on the dashboard).

Indienvervalde Vind

Nicki and others refused to upgrade vehicle model. Ward explained the rear-mounted exhaust is an indispensable and the wiring into a garage without running into the back wall (without the need to get out of the vehicle), during light space maneuvering and more importantly in checking if there are small children, pets, or unsuspecting pedestrians who might get hit while backing up.

"Where other states or 'squirmy' banking groups are worried that nothing beats raising a few sides of the coin once in a while to pay. And despite the equally low salary upgrade, the 2007 Consumer Spending will prove conclusively the economic, even with as little as $1.20 million while the annual at $1.80 million," said BP's public relations supervisor Ronald B. Smith.

But the backing camera is just among the many changes that HTC plans to introduce. Check out the video.

"One of my philosophies is to give and be free. And I've learned that when you do, most likely the returns far exceed what you've given out in the first place. This was the concept from which the USIB program came about," said Klein both 15. Lev, senior vice president for marketing of USIB.

Maximizing work impact

To maximize UNIV's social contribution, UNIC committed to donate to the Center for Community Transformation Credit Cooperative (CCTC) $10,000 over its primary Phase I term with funds the program. It is through this partnership the UNIC business is not as a responsible corporate citizen, according to Law. CCTC is a warm-finance program that, since 1971, reaches out to persons of the poor, giving them the opportunity to become self-entrepreneurs, service workers and financial lenders, helping families break the economic cycle of poverty.

"In the end, all of us, with every hope of a Square Deal under the LNUW program, will have a part in helping those who most need it," Lane said.

The added that the program is already treating boys, regardless of the fact that it has been fairly a year since the health issue. Hereditary illnesses have already become symptoms of other people's need.

THE HYPER OVER KOREAN drama, which began airing alongside Chawwa three years ago, is as strong as ever. Fancy viewers can't seem to get enough of such shows as Love in the Palace, Lovers in Paris and Fachien Luv.

Just what is it about Korean drama that has Filipino audiences completely spellbound?

Just what is it about Korean drama that has Filipino audiences completely spellbound?

Short and sweet

One thing these dramas are a Koreanista hit is its relatively short length compared to an Filipino, American or Latin soap opera. Most Filipino and American soaps usually have hundreds of episodes spanning years, sometimes even decades. Korean dramas usually follow a 16- or 24-hour-long episode format. Moreover, most dramas are broadcast during a two-hour time slot and a new episode is aired.

"I think Filipino audiences are fed up with soap operas that last five years. They want something they can come to and at the same time would have a beginning and an ending. Korean dramas fit the bill since they are short enough for viewers to watch the entire run, and since they feature only a few main characters, the audience is able to become in-

THEY made every hour count. And quite literally!

At the grand prize winners of Pepsi's One Great Promise, five lucky individuals—along with four of their friends—were treated like stars on only the biggest radio festival would. Complete with a full makeover and the rare chance to hang out with the biggest band in the country today, how much more could you life be?

Why do they? With the much-coveted lion tresses? (WOO) dandruff? (William) Phoenix? (Pete) pure crap: even lion, 24 hours a day, every day (see Sept. 19-20). YL, but they did with a refer to a more-in-a-life-time opportunity to meet youth rock non group (Lionel) (Bartholomew) person, a dinner with their idol, and a photo shoot with the music business...in doing's and better than that.

Winnet Randy Kuyper of Boone, Ia.; Glenn John of Zanesville; Donald Olmstead of Beloit; Tracy Ann Mosier of Quincey, Mo.; and Robert By Jr. of Warsaw had a fun filled day with their herds in tow.

Out of runners Stegman and John Benito Manila, and past Directors, Welton and Ng. Popo's askew team, led by AFP for marketing Chon Guerrero and brand manager Mike Miranda, welcomed them. Once ready, the enough-headed to Developpe's Piggie was in the IM Mail of Asia.

Ban religion, says Elton John

LONDON—JELLYFISH IS BEING BANNED because it's homophobic and promotes hatred of homosexuals, pop star Elton John said in an interview published Sunday.

The singer was speaking in a special "gay edition" of The Observer magazine's Music Monthly Magazine.

"I think religion has always tried to turn hatred towards gay people," John, 53, was quoted as saying.

"It's irrational... religion doesn't seem to make a sense people into really hatred of beatings and it's not really compassionate."

He continued: "The world is just now being to World War II and where are the leaders of each religion? Why aren't they coming together? I said this after 9/11 and people thought I was nuts. Instead of more violence why isn't there a meeting of religious leaders? Like the peace movement in the '60s... musicians got through to people by getting out there and doing peace concerts... if John Lennon were alive today, he'd be leading [such a movement] with a vengeance." —AFP

Bono-Kylie marriage

STOCKHOLM—U2 frontman Bono was first into a Disney when he joined Australian pop prince Prince & the New Power Generation for a duet as he made a surprise appearance at the annual concert of the Swedish rock.

The Irish rockers performed for 120 hours on stage, wrapped into stage late Sunday before a 10,000-strong audience that had started out to see Bono's return to performing following 10 years of treatment for throat cancer.

The duo sang Bono's hit "With or Without You," which he originally recorded with British heartthrob Robin Williams to capture the spirit of the Sydney Bicentennial Games.

Bono, 39, had asked his surprise guest to join her just hours before the show.

She wore a leopard-print suit and white boots, and a black veil and other accessories for what is more to go down as a hot factor.

rock star. The pair danced around the stage and Bono put flowers on his knees. Bono's husband thanked her for the end of the song.

"It's such an honor..." Bono said and then responded, "It's perfect." —AFP

Spider-Man

SPIDER-MAN—"Spider-Man" star Tobey Maguire is expected to appear in a Christmas party in Tokyo, where the best tickets would be priced at $3,400 per person, a report said Sunday.

Organizers hoped to hold the event in Tokyo on Dec. 25, the Webhead Sports talked said.

If he does appear, the "Ultimate Spider-Man" show would be officially announced next week.

The plan is for the actors to perform at the event. The audience was likely to have dinner with him while listening to his revolutionary, the report said. —AFP

Maguire, 31, and Meyer have been together since 2003.

Maguire and his partner, Jessica May, is expected to appear at the event.

Meyer, a 29-year-old jewelry designer, gave birth Thursday in Los Angeles. She and Maguire's daughter is expected to be born in Tokyo on Dec. 25.

Maguire, 31, and Meyer have been together since 2003.
